

The Berkshire Dictionary of Chinese Biography

中华传记字典
宝库山

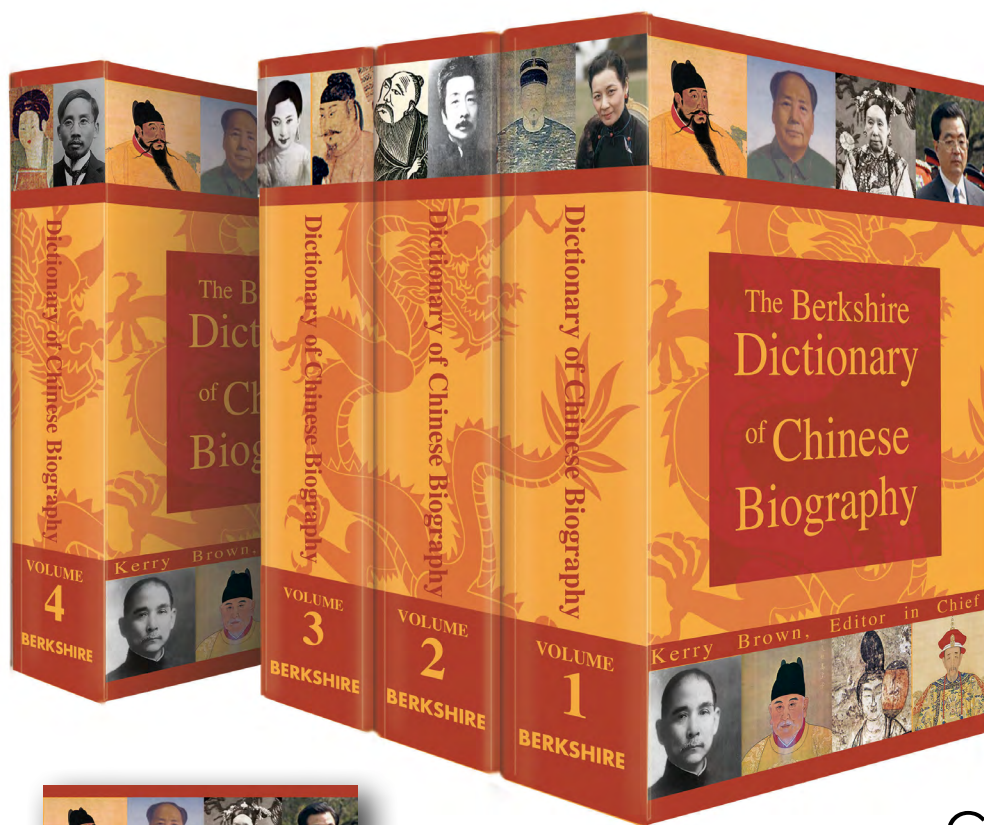

Editor-in-chief: Kerry Brown, Chatham House, London

Editorial Board: Christopher Cullen, Needham Research Institute, Cambridge University; Keith Knapp, Citadel; Julia Lovell, University of London; Guoxiang Peng, Peking University; Chloe Starr, Yale University; Roel Sterckx, European Association of Chinese Studies; Jan Stuart, The British Museum; John Wills, Jr., University of Southern California; Frances Wood, British Library
Associate Editors: Patrick Boehler, University of Hong Kong; Winnie Tsui, The Chinese University of Hong Kong

“Alas! Alas! What a gentleman dreads is to die before his name is known. My way is not popular. How shall I make myself known to later ages?” “弗乎弗乎，君子病没世而名不称焉。吾道不行矣，吾何以自见于后世哉？”

—from the Biography of Confucius in Sima Qian’s Records of the Grand Historian.

Chinese history can be overwhelming, and no one claims to understand in detail more than specific periods of this great sweep of political, social, and economic development. But the world’s leading China scholars can, together, tell us the whole story. The Dictionary of Chinese Biography makes this immense history manageable—easier to comprehend and digest—by taking the reader through it in the life stories of key figures who have shaped, influenced, and transformed China. These individuals include emperors, politicians, poets, writers, artists, scientists, explorers and philosophers. This unique and ambitious project is built on the success of the monumental Berkshire Encyclopedia of China, published in 2009. Similar but longer articles—of 5-10,000 words—make up the Dictionary of Chinese Biography. This is the first time that such an overview will be available in one place, produced by internationally recognized experts, and designed to satisfy the growing thirst for knowledge about China.

See advance samples at

ChinaConnectU
宝库山教育信息网

www.chinaconnectu.com

Ask about print / e bundle

Berkshire Dictionary of Chinese Biography

The Dictionary of Chinese Biography will use the life stories of 150 key individuals, selected from the earliest dynasties to the present day, to tell the story of China itself over the entire span of its history.

978-1933782-66-9 • Winter 2013 • 4 volumes • 1,840 pages

BERKSHIRE DICTIONARY OF CHINESE BIOGRAPHY

Editor-in-chief: Kerry Brown, Chatham House, London

Volumes 1–3: 978-1933782-66-9 • Volume 4: 978-1-61472-900-6 9 • 4-volume set: 978-1-61472-975-4

What is the Berkshire DCB?

The Dictionary of Chinese Biography will use the life stories of 150 key individuals, selected from the earliest dynasties to the present day, to tell the story of China itself over the entire span of its history. It is a companion to the Berkshire Encyclopedia of China.

Who is in it?

Remarkable people in any walk of life who were connected with China—past and present, including emperors, politicians, poets, writers, artists, scientists, explorers, and philosophers.

Who is it for?

The Berkshire Dictionary of Chinese Biography is a treasury of information for a diverse range of readers—researchers and scholars, school students, writers, biography readers, librarians, archivists, and curators. It is the essential starting point for those who seek how China has become what it is today.

Editorial excellence

The Berkshire DCB is led by editor-in-chief Kerry Brown (Chatham House), and overseen by an advisory board including Roel Sterckx (University of Cambridge), Christopher Cullen (University of Cambridge), Chloe Starr (University of Oxford), Guoxiang PENG (Peking University), Jan Stuart (British Museum) and Frances Wood (British Library). There are over 100 contributors to the Berkshire DCB from around the world.

INCLUDES THESE

NOTABLE PEOPLE:

- Livia Kohn on Laozi
- Lowell Dittmer on Liu Shaoqi
- Michael Dillon on Peng Dehuai
- Frances Wood on Matteo Ricci
- Mark Strange on Sima Guang
- Grant Hardy on Sima Qian
- Kerry Brown on Zhao Ziyang
- Sally Church on Zheng He
- Ezra Vogel on Deng Xiaoping
- John Minford on Cao Xueqin

AND MORE:

- Mao Zedong
- Mencius
- Sun Tzu
- Qin Shi Huangdi
- Confucius
- Khubilai Khan
- Wu Zetian

Please place my order for the four-volume Berkshire Dictionary of Chinese Biography:

- List price $779
- Pre-publication discount price $729
- Pre-paid SPECIAL OFFER* $679 (best value)

* Special introductory price when you pre-pay before 15 April 2012. A full $145.00 off list price!

INVOICE TO:

PAYMENT ENCLOSED

BILL MY CREDIT CARD:

Account #:

Expiration Date:

Visa Mastercard American Express

Name:

Email:

SEND ORDERS TO:

BERKSHIRE PUBLISHING

122 Castle Street
Great Barrington, MA 01230-1506, U.S.A.
Tel +1 413 528 0206 • Fax +1 413 541 0076